BLAISDELL.—At Keala, Kauai, Aug. 18, J. L. Blaisdell, Sr., aged 88 years.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

A Brilliant Social Tribute to Rev. George Wallace.

Yesterday evening a reception was given at the residence of Mr. Thos. R. Walker, King street, by Messrs. Tom May and T. R. Walker, churchwardens of the second congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, in honor of the Rev. George Wallace, A. M., the pastor of that body, who leaves on the 30th inst. for the States. The reverend gentleman has been connected with St. Andrew's Cathedral about seven years, the last two and a half of which he has been in charge of the second congregation, and his departure is much regretted, as he has kept together a large and influential body of people, and the financial standing of his congregation is excellent. Whether he will return or not he does not himself know, but it is hoped he will.

The reception last evening was one of the most elegant given in Honolulu in a long time. The spacious grounds were lit up with torches, colored lanterns hung from the front of the house and also several strings of them from the top of the flagstaff to the ground. The interior of the house was tastefully decorated with flowers and evergreens, the whole scene, as one lady remarked, "looking like fairyland." The invited guests included members of the Royal family, His Majesty's Ministers, the Diplomatic and Consular Corps, Privy Council, Officers of the U. S. S. Nipsic and Alert, and a large number of our most prominent citizens. As they arrived they were received in a courteous manner by Mr. May and Mr. Walker and then presented to Rev. Mr. Wallace who occupied a position in the parlor.

A lanai decorated with flags had been erected on one side of the house and here refreshments of a palatable nature were served to those present by an efficient corps of waiters. Social conversation was indulged in, while a good many of the guests strolled through the well appointed grounds. The reception was a brilliant social success in every respect, and this end was due to the well-directed efforts of both Mr. May and Mr. Walker, two gentlemen who are held in the highest respect in this community.

JUDGE TERRY OF CALIFORNIA SHOT.

David S. Terry, ex-judge and one of counsel in the famous Sharon case, was shot and instantly killed in the dining room of the Depot Hotel, at Lathrop, Cal., on August 14, by David Nagle, a Deputy United States Marshal. Justice Field, returning from holding court at Los Angeles, was seated at a table in the room, where Terry and his wife were. Terry rose up from another table and, walking up to Justice Field's table and standing behind him, slapped his face. Nagle commanded him to desist, and as he was about to renew his assault with his fist, Nagle drew a pistol and fired. Terry was shot through the heart and died instantly. Nagle fired a second shot at Terry while he was falling.

The tragedy caused great excitement in California as well as intense interest all over the continent. It was no surprise to the Californians, however, who expected a tragical ending to the bitterness of Terry and his wife toward Judge Field from the Sharon proceedings. In September, 1888, Terry was imprisoned for an assault committed in the presence of the United States Circuit Court. Since then he and Mrs. Terry had made such threats against Judge Field as to lead to Deputy Marshal Nagle's being detailed as a body-guard to protect Field. Terry was a man of blood who, the Alta says, "had the misfortune to carry into a ripened state of society the conditions which are tolerable only where social order is not fully established. Restless under authority, and putting violence above law, lived by the sword and has perished by it." Terry killed Senator Broderick in a duel in 1859, and he served in the rebel army on the staff of General Bragg.

Of Judge Field the Alta says: "When the Justice, with threats made against his life, returned to the State unharmed and resentful of protection against assault, declaring that when Judges must arm to defend themselves from assault offered in reprisal for their official action, society must be considered dissolved, he was rendering to our institutions the final and highest possible service."

Mrs. Terry was the claimant in the Sharon will case, trying to establish the fact of her marriage with the late Senator. She showed a pistol in court when Justice Field was reading the adverse decision in the case on Sept. 3, and her husband drew a knife to protect her from arrest, for which he was imprisoned, and the pair were to have appeared in the U. S. District Court on Aug. 15th for trial on two indictments charging them with resisting an officer. After the shooting she called on the crowd to lynch Nagle.

Sullivan is on trial at Purvis, Mississippi, for assaulting Kilrain.

Twenty-one blocks in the heart of the city of Spokane Falls, Washington, were destroyed by fire on Aug. 4th. The lowest estimate of loss is $7,000,000. The Washington block, finest in the city, and the Frankford block, were destroyed.

The British schooner Black Diamond, seized by the U. S. cutter Rush, was taken by her captain to Victoria, B. C. Only one man had been put aboard her by the Rush, and it was feared from the fact the British shipper would play this trick, which is not an original one. The United States State Department is in a quandary over the matter, but still determined to enforce the law against sent poaching on all vessels. England has informed Canada that she will protect British rights in the Behring Sea, but what these rights are remain to be proved. The Canadians have seized the American schooner Vidette at Nova Scotia.

2500 men are on strike on the London docks for an extra penny an hour.

A Grand Bonapartist banquet was given at Paris, attended by 1600 people, at which every mention of Boulanger's name was greeted with applause.

FRESH SAMOAN TROUBLE.

A Berlin despatch of Aug. 7th says there is a stir throughout Germany over new and serious complications with Samoa. It is charged that Mataafa, after agreeing to maintain the status quo until the treaty drafted by the conference could be ratified by the U. S. Senate, has acted with a high hand toward Tamasese and the German police superintendent, compelling them to give up all their former control of prisons, police and municipal government.

It is also alleged that, on the occasion of a national fete at Apia, the "Dead Baby Dance" took place, only, instead of the traditional dead baby, Mataafa's followers carried in the procession a bust of Emperor William I., which in all likelihood had been washed ashore from the wreck of the German warship Eber. The German Consul hearing of the insult demanded the bust from Mataafa and now has it in possession.

As a stenographer Dr. Belden is expert, having had extensive experience in large courts. He resigned the position here as official court reporter because there is not sufficient work to keep him busy and because he would do better in a larger sphere. Dr. Belden is a thorough gentleman of scholarly attainments, and his departure will be regretfully felt by those who have made his acquaintance.

New York Goss Equitable by a Large Majority.

No better example of the estimation in which this great Company is held, can be given, than by a comparative statement of the business done by itself and its chief competitors in their common home, the city of New York. In New York a man can get his information direct from the Home Office of the largest companies, and has more accurate opportunities of judging their respective merits than anywhere else. As a result in the City of New York during the year 1888 the Equitable wrote a larger amount of new business than was written by its Two Largest Competitors Combined. In the State of New York the Equitable wrote $1,803,431 more Insurance than the aggregate of its Two Largest Competitors Taken Together. It did the Largest Business in the United States, as well as in the World at a time when all Companies were straining every nerve to pass it.

The reason why this universal verdict goes with the Equitable is on account of the Popularity of its Plans and the Promptness and Firmness of its Business Methods. As the Pioneer in reforms its Policies have been and are being extensively imitated by others, a most graceful tribute to their merit.

The primary object of Life Insurance is to provide ready money against death. No Company can approach the Equitable record for promptness in this regard. The New Policy of the Equitable just out is (like a bank draft) a simple promise to pay and is without conditions on its back.
